

PC Cubed Wins Major Industry Award

PC Cubed, a specialist hardware distributor, has been named as the Specialist Distributor of the Year 2006 at the prestigious ICT Excellence Awards held on Thursday 4th May in the Burlington Hotel, Dublin. This award aims to recognise distribution companies that have demonstrated outstanding business performance over the past twelve months. The company was selected from a shortlist of distribution companies that included some of the leading providers in the marketplace.

PC Cubed have been in the EPoS market for 12 years and their close collaboration with system integrators to secure business has worked extremely well. The award is in recognition of PC Cubed's product excellence, strategic positioning and recent growth experienced by the company. This announcement follows PC Cubed's successful strategic move into Mobile Computing broadening their product range to include products from Casio, Nordic ID and Cipherlab range.

"We are delighted to receive this award. It highlights PC Cubed's commitment to providing only the best hardware and support to our integrators. It is also a great testament to our staff, system integrators and manufacturers, all partners in PC Cubed's success" said Chris Tate, Managing Director PC Cubed

Peter Booth, Regional Sales Director for Targus Ireland, UK and South Africa

About PC Cubed

PC Cubed's Sole Business is derived from Distribution contracts with hardware manufacturers. We are a trade only niche distributor of a comprehensive range of hardware solutions and local support services for Electronic Point of Sale, Mobile Computing and related IT Products. PC Cubed has been providing hardware solutions to Ireland's leading EPoS integrators throughout the 32 counties successfully for just over 11 years. After a strategic move into Mobile Solutions in 2003 following many distribution agreements with manufacturers such as Casio and Nordic ID we now serve the growing market of mobile solutions, listing many cutting edge mobile products in our portfolio. PC Cubed partners with only the best manufacturing companies to serve our installers both north and south with a range of innovative, hardwearing and cost effective solutions.
