

PC Cubed teams up with Posiflex

Bray based hardware distributor PC Cubed have signed an exclusive distribution agreement with Posiflex a leading manufacturer of POS Systems.

PC Cubed says the Posiflex touch terminals, that are now ready to order, will complement their existing range of products. "We are constantly diversifying our product range and researching new innovations" stated Chris Tate. The new range of units will have added features for end users such as dual screens to allow for convenient in store advertising, infrared touch sensors and spill resistant architecture to name but a few.

Posiflex range of touch terminals will enable PC Cubed to offer a greater range of products to their system integrators. Commenting on the agreement Chris Tate Managing Director PC Cubed stated "PC Cubed are continuously expanding our product range and are consistently at the forefront of product innovation. The distribution agreement will allow the company to stay ahead of competition in this fast changing industry"

Posiflex has grown in recent years to become a world leader in design and manufacturing of POS Terminals and related peripherals now supplying PC Cubed with the best touch technology. Posiflex designs and manufactures all "POSIFLEX" brand products in its own certified laboratory and factories in Taiwan, whose products have been honored by many national and international Awards and with over 30 Patents worldwide, covering secure, integrative, flexible, and easy-to-use features.

PC Cubed will launch the product at this years ICT Expo taking place on the 4th and 5th May in the RDS.
